Civic Club Wins Top Award

The Sierra Madre Civic Club has won the highest award for community service in its district, Mrs. Ruth Barden, president, announced yesterday.

The local club won first place in the Josephine Seaman contest for the Verdugo District, in addition to several other awards. The citations were presented at the district convention of the California Federation of Women's Clubs this week at the Huntington-Sheraton Hotel in Pasadena.

The Sierra Madre Civic Club also was recognized for contributing the largest amount to a scholarship fund for clubs with memberships of less than 100; for outstanding achievement in a community project dedicated to conserving natural resources; for comprehensive community service, and for youth conservation; the second year the club has been recognized in this category.

The club also won honorable mention for its 1957-58 Press Book.

The Civic Club is now eligible to compete in the State Federation contests.

Civic Service Group to Study City

The Sierra Madre Civic Service Group devoted the early part of its April meeting this week to a discussion of the editorial in the last issue of the Sierra Madre News headed "Let's Do It Now."

The general opinion of the group, as expressed by President Pat Beutler, was that the advice was timely. He called upon Col. Walter D. Thurber to present the subject.

Col. Thurber proposed that the organization name a committee to study the situation concerning the commercial, industrial, spiritual, educational and recreational angles to community life in Sierra Madre and, if possible, to come up with a plan of action with several practical suggestions.

The idea met with unanimous approval and the president appointed the following committee: Col. Thurber, chairman; Lawrence Bevington, city administrator; James Wolfe, Charles Louk, Ed Nelissen, John Curtis, Rev. Robt. Schaper, Harry Elwood, Harry Lange, Dr. Lowell Jackson, Mrs. Ruth Barden, Mrs. Ethel Tye, Larry Lomax, E. R. Mitchell and Rev. George Lindsay.

The committee was authorized to add to its roster by including other civic leaders.

Substituting for Assemblyman Frank Lanterman, who had planned to address the group, City Administrator Bevington discussed the sewer problem in Sierra Madre and steps that were being taken at City Hall to meet the problem over a period of years.

The next meeting of the group will be held, as usual, in the basement of the Congregational Church. Assemblyman Lanterman will be the speaker.

WINS AWARD

Thomas H. Parramore, 90 Coburn, has received a $10 award under the Army's incentive award program as the result of his suggestion made to the U.S. Army Ordnance District headquarters at 55 S. Grand, Pasadena. His suggestion pertained to the weight of shipping containers. Mr. Parramore has been in Federal employment for 15 years.

City Gets $1,900 Gift For Heater in Pool

The City of Sierra Madre received $1,998.34 Tuesday night as gifts from three organizations to pay for the heater in the new swimming pool.

The biggest gift, $1,000, was presented on behalf of the Lions Club by Dr. Paul Narcowich, club vice president. This amount was collected by the club several years ago and held in a fund for a swimming pool.

A TOTAL of $343.01 was presented by Judge John Mead, after he was introduced by Tom Scwartz. This was money collected in paper drives by a group that also was formed to raise money for a swimming pool.

Dave Allen, former vice president of the Bank of Sierra Madre, presented a check for $655.33 which had been collected by the Sierra Madre Swimming Pool Assn.

In accepting the gifts, Mayor David Wood said:

"THIS exemplifies a cooperative spirit which typifies the best in Sierra Madre."

City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington reported that the heater has already been delivered and installed.

Lions Club Annual Light Bulb Sale Planned Tonight

The annual light bulb sale sponsored by the Sierra Madre Lions Club will be held from 6:30 to 8:30 this evening (Thursday). Bulbs cost $2 per carton.

Proceeds of the sale will go to aid worthy projects and to benefit youth in Sierra Madre.

The light bulb sale is one of two fund raising projects carried on by the Lions Club in Sierra Madre each year.

Cemetery Fund Drive Is Under Way

The Sierra Madre Cemetery Committee, with only about $200 on hand, is now in the midst of a drive for funds to maintain the cemetery so that it will "continue to be a distinct asset to our city."

In a letter signed by William H. Schwartz, Mrs. Maybelle Barker and Mrs. Rudolph Hartman, all officers of the Cemetery Committee, it was pointed out that only $534 was contributed in 1957 by 58 donors.

The letter states:

"The cleaning of the cemetery is a hard and expensive job as it is practically all hand work, and because of 'employer's liability' it is done by contract.

"The results are a direct reflection of the contributions received, and it is a shame that the load this past year was carried by only 58 persons."

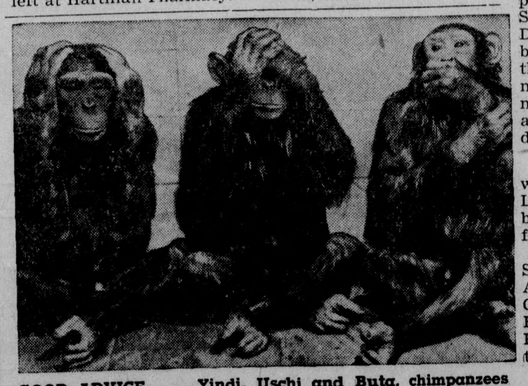

Contributions should be made payable to the Sierra Madre Cemetery Committee and mailed to Mrs. Rudolph R. Hartman, 460 N. Lima, or left at Hartman Pharmacy.

Mode-O-Day Dress Store to Open in May

A Mode-O-Day dress shop will open in Sierra Madre, possibly by May 1, in the store formerly occupied by Fashion Future.

Mode-O-Day has consigned the store to Mrs. Florence Willson and Mrs. Elena Crocker, both former employes of Fashion Future, which closed about three weeks ago.

Mode-O-Day operates a chain of women's dress and lingerie shops.

Society Sets Annual Meet For May 24

The spring general meeting of the Sierra Madre Historical Society, will convene in the Memorial Room of the Library, Saturday, May 24, at 2 p.m., according to Mrs. Randolph Wood, president, at whose house the executive board met April 15.

Arrangements for the program and speaker are in charge of Richard W. Lees, vice-president and program chairman.

The Society's special project this year has been the gathering of biographical data from all its members concerning themselves and their families, on printed forms of uniform size for proper filing, distributed at a previous meeting.

All members who have not already filled out this 8 by 11 inch questionaire are requested to do so and forward it by mail or in person to Mrs. Alwin Suman, 332 Sturtevant Dr.,

Housewife Saved by Rescue Team

A 15-year-old housewife and mother from Baldwin Park was carried from the Big Santa Anita Canyon late last Sunday afternoon after a 140-foot fall.

Mrs. Loyette L. Will was rescued from a rocky ledge by members of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Crew. She suffered injuries to her right leg, cuts and abrasions on her arms and back, and was unable to walk. After splinting the injured leg and treating the visible wounds, she was carried by litter to an ambulance and taken to the Sierra Madre Hospital.

Mrs. Will was hiking the Sturtevant Trail with her 19-year-old husband, Stanley, when she attempted to grab the family dog that was romping near the edge of the trail. She slipped over the side and fell.

Participating in the rescue were Earl, Edward and Fred LaLone, Bill Wark and Hubert Herric of the Rescue Team; Ranger Ralph Shangraw of the Forest Service, and Charles Radden of the Chantry Flats Pack Station.

Roberts Market Is Burglarized

Burglars broke into Roberts Market last weekend and stole 20 bottles of whiskey, five cartons of cigarets and several boxes of Lifesavers.

The burglary was discovered by a night police patrolman at 4:30 a.m. Sunday. Entry was gained by breaking a rear window.

Red Sox to Meet Dodgers in First Tilt

Final touches are being put on the new Little League diamond this week to get it ready for the opening game next Monday when the powerful Red Sox tangle with the heavy-hitting Dodgers.

This includes laying out the diamond, installing home plate and the bases, painting benches and constructing an outfield fence.

THE NEW field is reported in excellent shape by the Indians and the Dodgers who played a practice game last Saturday. The score was Dodgers 7, Indians 6, which bears out predictions that the teams are very evenly matched this season. Thus many interesting ball games are in store for Sierra Madreans.

The Babe Ruth League, with 63 boys, works out at La Salle School. They have been tentatively split up into four squads, A, B, C and D.

Dick Johnson and Ray Shackleford ride herd on the A, Grant Oswalt and Mac Cacson the B, Jim Fisher and Bill Miller the C, and Rev. Ray Hansen and Bob Miles the D squad.

REV. HANSEN, a former pitcher, and Joe Turner, another former ball player, will assure that the boy get some expert help in learning the game. Any Babe Ruth player who is not assigned to a squad should call one of these men for the next practice date and time.

The 35 Minor Leaguers practice at Sierra Madre School, being under the wings of Chris Robertson and Ed Riggins. Any boy is eligible to join this squad at any time and should call one of these men for the practice dates.

LITTLE LEAGUE GAME SCHEDULE

April 28 — Red Sox vs. Dodgers.
April 29 — Yankees vs. Orioles.
April 30 — Indians vs. Braves.
May 1 — Indians vs. Yankees.

All games at Sierra Vista Park, 5:30 p.m.

City Funds Needed In Storm Drain Study

Only Three File For Board

Three candidates have filed for the two vacancies on the Board of Education which will be filled by the election of May 20.

They are, as reported in the Sierra Madre News last week, Newell Barrett, the incumbent; Arthur G. Albertson, and Mrs. Clark Casey.

Claude H. Brown Jr., considered a possible candidate by many Sierra Madreans, decided just before the filing deadline last Friday that he would not run.

Although it is not necessary in a School Board election to obtain signatures on filing petitons, both Barrett and Albertson did so. Mrs. Casey, a representative of the PTA, simply filed under her own name.

Signatures on Barrett's petition are Mr. and Mrs. James L. McCoy, Mrs. Jane B. Eastwood, Mrs. Maybelle A. Stine, Mrs. Ann M. Tyler, Don Jackson, Mayor David Wood and Rev. George Lindsay of the Congregatinal Church.

Signatures for Albertson are City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington, Dr. Paul Narcowich, Mrs. Joan MacDonald, Mrs. Patricia Rose, William A. Treder, Bjarne Goldmann and Mrs. Martha Coutant, present School Board member whose position will be filled by the election.

PTA Carnival Is Scheduled On May 10

Sierra Madre PTA'S carnival, fund-raising and annual fun project for Sierra Madre children, will be held on May 10 from 12 noon to 6:30 p.m. at the Sierra Madre School grounds.

The ever-popular game booths will include the sponge-throwing, nail-pounding, make-up, grab bag and goldfish booths among the many to be set up. There will be the usual food booths, with cotton candy and snow cones to be added this year.

Booths are run by the parents of the children in each of the classrooms at both public schools, with the room representatives in charge, and under the overall direction of Mr. and Mrs. James Dunnagan, ways and means co-vice presidents.

An added booth this year is the Bazaar Booth, which gives the carnival its name, the "Bazaarnival." Items to be sold at this booth will be made and donated by members of the PTA with special emphasis on gifts appropriate for Mother's Day.

The Bazaarnival will follow this year's Patriotic theme, with all decorations in red, white and blue.

Medal of Honor Winner Invited To Memorial Rites

Louis Van Iersel, Congressional Medal of Honor winner from Sierra Madre, has been invited by the secretary of the army to attend memorial services in Washington, D.C., on May 30.

Van Iersel, 134 E. Montecito, won the Army's highest award in battle during World War I.

The engraved invitation, bordered in black, invites Van Iersel to attend the burial of two unknown Americans who died in the defense of their country during World War II and the Korean conflict.

St. Catherine's Breakfast Planned May 4

St. Catherine's Guild of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Church of the Ascension will serve its annual May Breakfast on Sunday, May 4, in the Parish House.

The breakfast, from 8 to 11 o'clock, will consist of the famous pancakes always served in the past, together with meat, fruit and coffee, tea or milk.

Call Mrs. Eugene F. Englar at ELgin 5-8443 for tickets. The donation is $1 for adults and 75 cents for children under 10.

Final Rites For Branch Satterfield

Branch E. Satterfield, an employe of Arnold's Hardware here for the past six years, died April 20 in Sierra Madre Convalescent Center following a three-month illness. He was in his 70s when he succumbed.

A native of Columbia, Tenn., Mr. Satterfield moved to California in 1925. He worked for Arnold's Hardware in Hermosa Beach before the store was moved to Sierra Madre.

Funeral services will be held at 11 a.m. Friday in Ripple Mortuary Chapel, with Rev. Donald Ostrander of Trinity Presbyterian Church officiating. Interment will be in Mt. View Cemetery.

Mr. Satterfield is survived by his wife, Anne M. Satterfield.

Cooperate, or Else, Implies County

City councilmen made loud noises Tuesday night over agreements between Sierra Madre and Los Angeles County, but when the fury had subsided it became obvious that the city is stuck between the San Gabriel Mountains and the deep, blue sea.

In short, Sierra Madre is a part of Los Angeles County and must, in some ways, cooperate or get its financial head cut off.

FOR EXAMPLE, the county is planning a huge bond issue to be placed on the ballot in November which, if it passes, will provide for the construction of storm drains throughout the county.

Up to $300,000 will be available for Sierra Madre, providing we present detailed plans as to where the drains should be placed. These plans are expected to cost the city at least $3,000.

If the bond issue passes, the city will be refunded the amount spent for plans. If it fails, the city will have to shoulder the cost.

If the city fails to present detailed plans, perhaps because no more storm drains are needed, Sierra Madreans will still have to pay their share of the bond issue even though no drains will be constructed here.

Between now and the next Council meeting City Administrator Lawrence C. Bevington will attempt to get an accurate estimate of the cost of storm drain blueprints.

THE CITY also has an agreement with the county under which the latter provides services such as making storm drain surveys and striping streets, if the Council requests them.

Councilman Charles H. James said there is a danger that the county could assume more and more control over the city, if the Council is not cautious.

On the other hand, the county can perform these services much cheaper than can Sierra Madre.

After considerable debate, the Council voted to renew its general services agreement wth the county. Councilman Milton Emerson abstained. Two members of the audience, Mrs. Grace Vane and Mrs. Thomas Wynne, objected to the agreement.

THE COUNTY also provides a building inspector for Sierra Madre, primarily because the city couldn't find a competent inspector of its own willing to work for the salary paid by the city.

The city's agreement with the county building inspector ends June 30. The city can either renew the agreement or hire its own inspector, as has been suggested by several contractors in Sierra Madre. The Council will also have to tackle this problem at its next meeting.

IN OTHER business at the Tuesday night meeting, the Council:

1. Listened to a letter from Carl S. Rees, chief pump operator in the Water Department, in which he applied for the job of water superintendent.

Rees, a Water Department employe for the past six years, said in his letter:

"Actually I have been performing the duties of city water superintendent for a long time now, since the resignation of Mr. (Al) Freeland, former water superintendent. The records will show this to be true in spite of the fact that this is not common knowledge.

"And later, even after the appointment of Mr. (William) Noel as water superintendent, I remained faithful and . . . shouldered all the responsibilities . . . because it turned out that Mr. Noel had no knowledge in the field of city water works . . .

"And even now, since Mr. Noel's dismissal (he resigned—Ed.) and at the specific request of Mr. Ben Mobley, I am unofficially as before, performing the duties of water superintendent . . . "

2. Appointed Councilman Charles H. James to take charge of negotiations for the site of a high level reservoir. The planned site has not yet been disclosed, or possibly it is not yet known where the reservoir will be.

3. Asked the city administrator to investigate the possibility of new "Sierra Madre" signs at the approaches to the city.

Both Councilman James and Lisle objected to the present neon sign at Foothill and Baldwin because "it looks like a night club."

Mrs. Marjorie Saint

Slain Missionary's Wife To Speak at Bethany

Mrs. Marjorie Saint, widow of one of the five missionaries slain by Auca Indians in the jungles of Eduador last year, will speak at Bethany Church April 30.

On Jan. 3, 1956, Nate Saint, husband of Mrs. Saint, landed his small Piper plane between the tall trees along the Curaray River, deep in the Ecuadorian jungles. For months he and his four missionary colleagues had been successfully exchanging gifts with these Indians by means of a unique bucket-on-a-cord method from the cricling plane overhead.

Three days following the landing on the river sandbar initial friendly contact was established with three members of this savage tribe. Then on Sunday, Jan. 8, hostile elements apparently took over and the entire party of five missionaries, including Nate Saint, was attacked and killed.

The faith and courage of these five men gained worldwide attention.

Mrs. Saint, with her husband, has been affiliated with the Missionary Aviation Fellowhip, an interdenominational air-arm for pioneer missions with headquarters in Fullerton, Calif. Presently she is on assignment to Radio Station HCJB in Quito, Ecuador.

Mrs. T. W. Ames Picked to Head Co-ord. Council

Mrs. Thomas W. Ames has been nominated for the presidency of the Sierra Madre Coordinating Council to succeed Dr. Paul Narcowich.

Other officers chosen by the Council Nominating Committee are Col. Walter D. Thurber, vice president; Mrs. William H. Kindrick, recording secretary; Mrs. Carl Cheadle, corresponding secretary, and Frank R. Parks, treasurer.

The election will be May 6.

Taking the Plunge

For the first time in many a month, a committee from the Chamber of Commerce sat down this week and pondered over "What's the Matter with Sierra Madre?" particularly the business district.

How are we going to attract more customers?

What can we do to make people want to buy here? What about parking, merchandising methods, traffic control?

These and several more pertinent questions were posed, and Sierra Madre businessmen will get a chance to answer them within the next few days.

THUS, IT APPEARS, the Chamber of Commerce is taking the first important step toward fighting the recession and planning for the future of Sierra Madre.

Boosterism, which can become a philosophy of life and to which most chambers of commerce are dedicated, is sometimes vital, but seldom will it work without accompanying self-criticism.

The two, in fact, go hand-in-hand and it's encouraging to realize that the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce is at last facing this truism.

Simply boosting a shopping area, for example, and urging people to buy at home will do little good unless the local folks have good reasons to patronize the stores of local merchants.

WHY SHOULD Sierra Madreans buy in Sierra Madre? is probably one of the first questions businessmen should ask themselves. If we, as businessmen, make it attractive, convenient and profitable to shop at home, I'm sure people will respond.

This same approach, I believe, could be adopted nationally with far better results than those obtained by simply repeating "Buy, Buy and Buy More," particularly since only a few months ago our national leaders were admonishing us to be thrifty, save our money and, in effect, to go on a buyers' strike.

Whether the Sierra Madre Chamber of Commerce continues its soul-searching program remains to be seen, but the fact that the initial plunge has been taken, that the Chamber is finally facing the unpleasant realities of April, 1958, is an encouraging sign.—H.W.E.

Letters to the Editor

KEEP WISTARIA

Dear Sir:

Thank you for the timely editorial on what may well be the last Wistaria Vine Festival. And what a pity that would be!

Surely the Wistaria Vine property should belong to our beautiful Sierra Madre, perhaps for year-round-museum-use as (1) a depository for historic souvenirs and (2) a means of daily income for the city.

This would take money and careful, long-range planning; but other towns have managed such a project. Why not Sierra Madre? Eventually such a museum would be profitable in every way, I believe.

Sincerely,
May Girdlestone Wilt

ONE PICTURE

Sir:

Mrs. Marjorie Torres and Mrs. Marjorie Parker wish it known publicly that, despite disputable testimony of a recent picture reproduced in the Sierra Madre News:

1. Mrs. Torres does not suffer from parenchymatous goitre (commonly known as "Derbyshire Neck.")

2. Mrs. Parker does not suffer from monoplegia or Bell's palsy (commonly known as "sagging eye").

Please understand that Mesdames Torres and Parker do forgive the Sierrra Madre News and that the aforementioned picture has naught to do with Mrs. Torres' imminent departure for San Francisco, or Mrs. Parker's May 5 departure for Washington, D.C. Not much!

MARJORIE TORRES
MARJORIE PARKER

NEW RESERVOIR

Dear Sir:

Remembered understanding is that the U.S. Forest Service would donate use of land for our high level reservoir. This should be discussed with Angeles Forest supervisor, regional forester, and, perhaps, with chief forester. Conferences should be open to conservationists and residents to "listen in." How many thousand dollars would be saved us by building the high level reservoir on National Forest land.

All water department equipment should be kept in top condition at all times. We went into the unprecedented heat spell of a few Septembers ago with two well pumps out of order. One of them was patched together and managed, with a few breakdowns, to pump through the emergency.

But several times the water level in the Mira Monte (base) reservoir was near the point of breaking suction. Al Freeland, who was then water superintendent, when asked what would have happened if fire had broken out, shivered and replied. "Don't ask such a thing. DON'T EVEN THINK IT."

Water Department reports and recommendations should be available to us all. Administrative recommendations should state and variations. This reaches into the heart of political self-government, including both burden of responsibility and public knowledge.

Soup to Nonsense . . .

I Hate Lucy, Says Harassed Housewife

By Jane Goodsell

Every time I watch a television family rollicking around on my smudgy 21-inch screen, I start biting my fingernails. Are the Ozzie Nelsons, the Jim Andersons and the Desi Arnazes really typical of the average, normal American family?

I don't know. Not being a peeping Tom, I don't get many intimate glimpses into the household of my friends and neighbors, and I don't know whether the family in Father Knows Best is typical or not. But if that family is normal ours isn't.

I have about as much in common with the average television housewife as I have with the Duchess of Windor. To start with, I don't look like the average television housewife. She's all ruffles and starch and, whereas I have hair, she has a coiffure. She doesn't go to bed in pincurls, either. I know this from personal, firsthand observation. I've seen her in bed.

FURTHERMORE, she is an absolute whiz of a housekeeper—oops! I mean homemaker. I honestly don't understand how she manages. After spending the entire afternoon at a PTA meeting, she produces a roast beef and homebaked cherry pie dinner. Nobody on television eats the kinds of desserts we have at our house—canned peaches, bread pudding, baked apples. All they ever have is homemaked pie and chocolate cake. My children are as aware of this as I am.

A good deal of housecleaning is performed on television, but it isn't like housework at our house. On television, people clean things that aren't really dirty. Everything is so shiny-new—and their cleaning equipment is so up-to-date—that it's no wonder they whisk daintily through their household chores. (I'd like to see them put a shine on that kitchen floor of mine!) Their houses never get grimy-dirty in hard-to-reach places.

Dishwashing on TV is handled in one of two ways. Some families apparently throw the dishes away after each meal, or else they have all their meals sent in, because their kitchens are always immaculate. Even after one of those roast-beef-and-cherry-pie dinners.

THE OTHER type of family makes a jolly lark of dishwashing. They prattle gaily about how easy it is with their wonderful miracle detergent, and Father runs off a laboratory test to prove there are no harmful alkaloids to redden his wife's pretty hands. Everybody smiles all the time.

It isn't like that at our house. Our dirty dishes are really dirty—dried egg and fried potatoes stuck like granite to the frying pan. My husband has never once examined my hands for detergent burn.

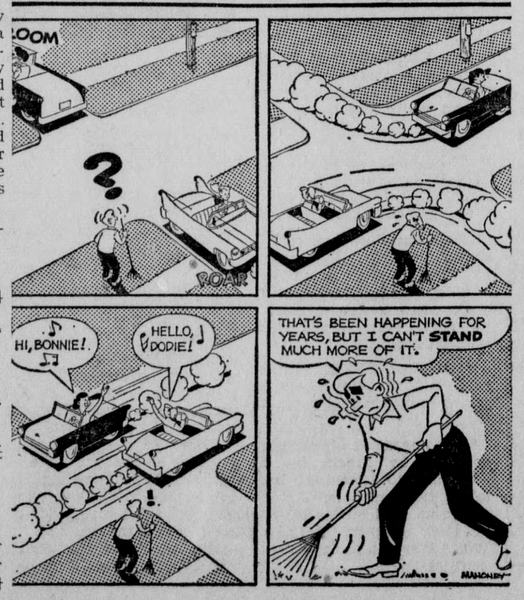

IF THE CHILDREN on television are normal, my offspring need psychiatric aid. Take that baby in "I Love Lucy" for instance. We have a baby about the same age, and I notice that they don't have to put all the bric--brac in their house on the mantel, out of the baby's reach. What's more, their house isn't ankle-deep in tinker toys, wooden beads and dirty wooly animals. Their baby spends about 20 hours a day in his crib, but our baby is all over the place all the time. Both those children can't be normal.

Older television children, when they aren't helping Mommy with the housework, have problems. But their problems get solved, usually through the wise, understanding guidance of their parents. Our children's problems hang around until they're worn out or outgrown. Or until we're so used to them that we don't notice them any more. My husband and I don't seem to have the knack for parenthood that Jim and Margaret Anderson have.

EVERY TIME I compare us to a typical TV family, I become depressed. When my children get their toothbrushes mixed up, I realize that the Anderson children wouldn't do a thing like that. My husband kicks all the covers out at the foot of his bed, but Jim Anderson sleeps so quietly that you'd hardly know his bed had been slept in. Lucy Arnaz has all her housework done by 10 a.m. and I don't even have the beds made.

It is all very demoralizing. Things were a lot easier back the old pre-TV days when you merely had to keep up with the Joneses. —(Reprinted from The Guild Reporter)

Anti-Recession Moves Equal Zero

By Robert G. Spivack

OFF THE TICKER—There is an old saying around the Capital: "Don't just do something: stand there."

That's about the way the so-called "leaders" of both political parties are fighting the recession. Everybody agrees that "something" must be done. Hardly anybody agrees on what or when. The trouble with the program the conservative Democrats want enacted is not that it's a big public works program, a modern WPA. The real trouble is that it's just a pork barrel program.

As for the Republicans they seem to have no program at all. The Administration favors "sitting tight" or as the President put it the other day, "Let's try to use some common sense and not just get a Sputnik attitude about everything." The Congressional Republicans want to cut business taxes substantially, but make only token reductions for ordinary working people.

* * *

HOW LITTLE CONGRESS HAS DONE—The other day the President was asked whether he was satisfied with the congressional record up to the Easter holidays. He mentioned a number of bills that had not been acted upon, including Pentagon reorganization and foreign aid.

Here is the status of some other important legislation.

Postal pay raise—passed by Senate only; Mutual Security—passed by neither chamber; miliary pay raise—passed by Senate only. The only important measure passed by both houses and signed by the President has been the billion-dollar highway bill.

* * *

HOW LITTLE THE WHITE HOUSE HAS DONE — Johnson and Rayburn have been so inept in their leadership that they have not bothered to remind the voters what The White House has not done this session. Here are two items: (1) The Administration has decided not to press for its school construction bill; (2) no one from the Executive Branch has gone to the Hill to seek quick enactment of the President's "scholarship" program. It was supposedly our answer to Sputnik and Soviet science progress.

Some people are blaming all the big talk and small action on Spring fever. Well, what were our public servants doing in January, February and March? The recession didn't just happen yesterday and neither did the school crisis develop overnight.

Right-to-Work Called Good for Country

By Edgar W. Hiestand
Rep., 21st District

The key issue in the elections this fall in many parts of the country will be whether or not a man should be forced to belong to a labor union in order to get or hold a job.

Now, I do not advocate that labor unions be abolished. Nor do I advocate that they be restricted except to the extent necessary to make their leaders truly responsible to their members and to society as a whole. Good labor unions play an important role in the economic life of the nation. I support these good unions and commend their leadership for the job they do. Voluntary unionism is just and proper and I have no quarrel with it. I do oppose the type of forced unionism that quite obviously lends itself to the abuse of union power and corruption.

By forced unionism I mean the closed shop and union shop. These devices have been used an dare being used by labor bosses to gain economic power over the individual union member. This power has been used for personal gain and it has been used for political influence. One purpose is as bad as the other.

A MAN'S right to work at the job of his choice is historically sacred. It is a God given, not a man given right. It should be guarded jealously. In my view, our founding fathers attempted to establish this right when they wrote the Declaration of Independence. They attempted once more when they wrote the Bill of Rights and made it into a part of the basic law of the land, the Constitution. Yet over the years and especially in recent years, millions of our citizens have yielded these precious rights by accepting compulsory unionism. It is apparent to many observers that this yielding was not altogether voluntary. It was done in many cases through carelessnes, ignorance and coercion.

Samuel L. Gompers, the father of medern Amercan unionism, once said on this subject, "I want to urge devotion to the fundamentals of human liberty . . . the principles of voluntarism. No lasting gain has ever come from compulsion. If we seek to force, we but tear apart that which united is invincible."

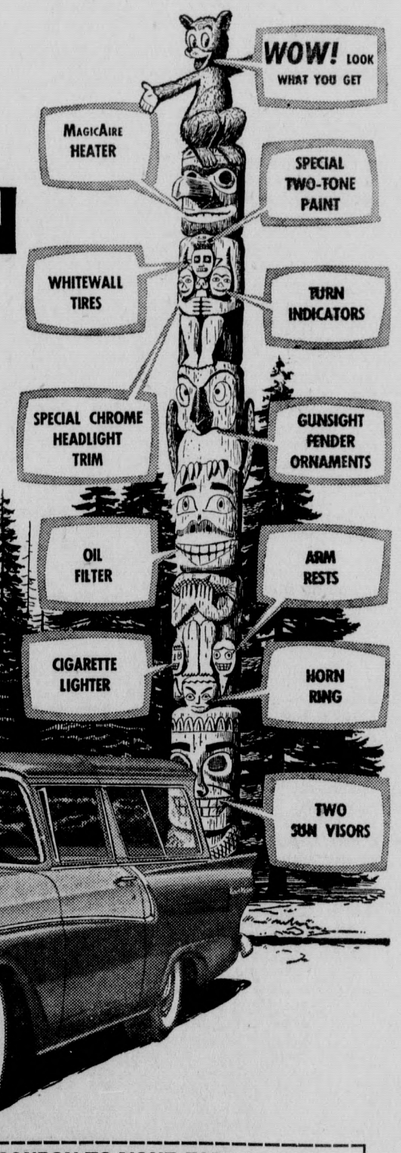

Ignoring this sage advice many labor leaders have tried and succeeded in strengthening their organization by force rather than by merit. Our newspapers tell us daily of abuses of power thus gained. The looting of welfare funds by corrupt union officials. The support of favored political candidates with union funds without the knowledge or consent of the members who are the rightful owners of the funds.

SEVENTEEN STATES have enacted right-to-work laws. In seven of these states the law was adopted by direct vote of the people. It is interesting to note that in these states economic progress has been accelerated. These states have surpassed all others in economic gains and unions themselves have grown and prospered.

Compulsory unionism forces the individual worker into economic, political and moral bondage.

Voluntary unionism gives the individual the freedom intended under our Constitution.

Sour Cream Chocolate Cake Melts in Mouth

By Toni Maurin
SYcamore 7-9634

I love almost any kind of cake as long as it's chocolate. Mrs. C. Don (Ethel) Hays, 1260 Coronet, gave me this recipe, which makes a lovely rich brown cake that virtually melts in your mouth.

SOUR CREAM CHOCOLATE CAKE

Dissolve three ounces unsweetened chocolate in ½ cup water over low heat, stirring until blended. Allow to cool. Add one cup sour cream and mix well. Sift the following dry ingredients together:

2 cups sifted cake flour
1 tsp. salt
1 tsp. baking soda
1½ tsp. baking powder

Cream together 2/3 cup butter and 2/3 cup light brown sugar and one cup granulated sugar. Add three eggs, one at a time, mixing well after each addition. Add two teaspoons vanilla and mix. Then add dry ingredients alternately with the sour cream mixture, bleding well. Pour into two buttered and floured nine-inch cake pans and bake at 350 degrees for 35 minutes or until cakes test well. Cool and ice with favorite icing. You might like this rich one she uses:

GLOSSY CHOCOLATE FROSTING

Combine 1½ cups granulated sugar, ¼ tsp. salt, 1½ cups water and 4 ounces unsweetened chocolate. Cook until sugar is dissolved (about five minutes). Combine six tablespoons cornstarch and four tablespoons cold water and add to boiling mixture. Cook until thick and glossy, stirring constantly. Let cook and add one teaspoon vanilla and frost cake.

THE FOLLOWING recipe is an old favorite and good any time of the year.

BAKED BABY LIMAS

Wash and soak overnight one pound dried baby lima beans. Drain and put in an electric casserole or bean pot. Cover with the following combined ingredients and bake at lowest heat of casserole or oven for eight hour:

1 large onion diced
1 tbs. vinegar
½ tsp. dry mustard
¼ cup brown sugar
½ cup chili sauce
½ lb. salt pork sliced
2 tsp. salt
½ cup dark molasses
1 8-oz. can tomato sauce
½ cup water (more may be added if necesary

IF YOU want to be real fancy, by all means try this heavenly pie.

LEMON ANGEL PIE

Beat four egg whites with ¼ tsp. cream of tartar and a pinch of salt until stiff. Gradually add one cup granulated sugar. Line a nine-inch pie tin with heavy wax paper and spread egg mixture into pan. Bake for one hour at 300 degrees. Remove wax paper from meringue while still warm and return to pie tin.

Filling: To four slightly beaten egg yolks, add ½ cup sugar, six tablespoons lemon juice, rind of one lemon grated, and a pinch of salt. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick. Cool. Whip 1½ cups of cream until thick. Spread one-third of cream on cooled meringue shell. Then spread lemon filling, and finally top with remaining whipped cream. Refrigerate overnight before serving.

MR. AND MRS. Hays originally hail from Bethlehem, Pa. They moved to California shortly after they were married and have been living in upper Hastings for seven years. They have one daughter, Malinda, who is 11.

Mrs. Hays is the president this year of Las Companeras as well as being very active in the Hastings Ranch Guild of Cystic Fibrosis. Her most time-consuming job, however, is director of the Children's Choir at the Trinity Presbyterian Church.

Her hobbies include gardening and reading, neither of which she has enough time for.

Mr. Hays is with the National Automobile and Casualty Co. in Los Angeles.

Earnings Hit Record High

Three recent rate increases and one that is presently pending should offset a decrease in per share earnings experienced by California Water & Telephone Co. during 1957, says President Chester H. Loveland in the company's annual report

The company gained two water rate increases in 1957 and early 1958 that are calculated to produce added annual revenues of about $260,000.

In addition, a multi-message unit telephone rate increase went into effect in the Los Angeles area that should produce more than $1,000,000 in new revenues in 1958. A basic telephone rate increase application has been filed with the California Public Utilities Commission which, if granted in its entirety, should produce another $1,000,000 annually,

I never thought I'd see the day when I'd eat sauted baseballs lightly covered with toasted bats. That is just what it has about come to in our house. What with Little League as practically a daily affair, we now have the Dodgers in our midst.

I have made up my mind I am just going to have to join them or get a sport of my own. I, who thought it was good exercise to drive to the mail box and back, am going to take up sports. I thought I'd start by getting the baseball equipment first. Anybody know where I can get a good used racoon coat cheap? Then, of course, I really ought to have a scratch sheet. What else? Oh yes, some shoes with cleats.

Oh boy, when I go into baseball, I really go all of the way. There is just so sense doing something unless you do it right. Now all the Dodgers have to do for me is to make those goals!

THE BURTON DAKE household at 2007 Villa Heights has been the hub of a great deal of young people's activity. Firstly, the family, which included the four children, Stevie, Robin, Debbie and Ricky, went with friends for a few days' vacation to San Filipe. They came back with practically the only sun tans in the locale. Upon their return Stevie, along with Leslie Lockard and Susan Wills, joined Job's Daughters. Last weekend, Stevie gave a surprise record birthday party for Pam Mechler, which included 14 of their school friends.

MR. AND MRS. Emerson Reichard of 3265 Fairpoint had a lovely vacation recently with their two daughters, Denise and Diane. They went down and spent the time at El Centro and over the border Mexicali way.

Last weekend they had a few friends in for refreshments before taking off to see Tea House of the August Moon, playing now at the Pasadena Playhouse.

MR. AND MRS. John H. Biggar of 1085 Mesita Road returned last week from a two-month tour of Europe. They flew S.A.S. to Copenhagen and then went directly to Stuttgart where they picked up a new Porsche. From there they drove to Nice, France, to see the Parade of the Battle of Flowers, which was the inspiration for our Tournament of Roses. They use horse-drawn carriages entirely covered with flowers. They also witnessed the Maridgras. After leaving France they went to Rome and around Italy, and then up through the Scandinavian countries. All in all they covered 4,600 miles in Europe.

* * *

ALSO MESITA WAY, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Fox invited a few neighbors in last week for an impromptu dinner party. The guests included Mr. and Mrs. Art Welsh, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Griffith and party .

* * *

MR. AND MRS. Henry Becker of 1510 Sierra Madre Villa entertained a few friends recently at a dinner party. Among the guests were Mr. and Mrs. George Clark, Dr. and Mrs. Clete Dorsey, Mr. and Mrs. Aikman Armstrong, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Shepard and Mr. and Mrs. William Wilkerson.

IT ALWAYS gives us a jolt up this way when our security is threatened. We recently had a case of theft in the area when someone removed the spare tire from the trunk of a local automobile. This was believed to be the second and the successful attempt at the same auto. If thieves have been successful once they undoubtedly will strike again, so lock your cars, even in your own driveway, as was the car that was looted.

DAVID PHILIPSON, son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Philipson of 1485 Old House Road, returned last week from a week's stay in Chicago. He flew back there to be with his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Meyer Goldstein of that city.

RECORD PAYMENTS

Investors Savings and Loan Association of Pasadena and Glendora paid a record interest payment of $305,608 to its nearly 13,000 savers, president Jack H. McDonald announced recently.

Friday Morning Ladies' Bowling League Members

The roster for the newly formed "Friday Morning Ladies' Bowling League" has been completed.

Mrs. Edward D. Eley is president of the league which bowls at Pasadena Bowling Lanes. Mrs. Gordon K. Wright is secretary-treasurer.

The "Hi Balls," captained by Mrs. Andrew W. Olson Jr., are leading the 10 teams. Other members are Mrs. Dominic F. Giangregorio, Mrs. David W. Wicks and Mrs. Pat Wright.

The other nine teams are: "The "All-So-Rans" with Mrs. George Bartling, captain; Mrs. Louise Ross, Mrs. Howard E. Baker and Mrs. Peter A. Hillier.

The "Miss Fits," Mrs. Alfred Ingersoll, captain; Mrs. Warren W. Milldrum, Mrs. Walter E. Burke and Mrs. Howard C. Horn.

The "If I'da," Mrs. William J. Guardia, captain; Mrs. Julius E. Hammerschmitt, Mrs. Mary Monroe and Mrs. Lloyd Beck.

The "Goof Balls," Mrs. William Dixon, captain; Mrs. Jackie Yerkes, Mrs. Wells H. Pleas and Mrs. Neil Fallon.

The "Alleygators," Mrs. Wright, captain; Mrs. Richard D. Tuchscherer, Mrs. Robert L. Hunt and Mrs. Wayne A .Miller.

The "Miss Fires," Mrs. Kippey Sessions, captain; Mrs. Edward Eubanks, Mrs. Linda Russell and Mrs. J. Frank Tobias.

The "7 Ups," Mrs. Robert C. Fischer, captain; Mrs. John Ranks, Mrs. Joanne Smith and Mrs. James V. Simone.

The "Alley Cats," Mrs. Eley captain; Mrs. Alpheus L. Pruitt, Mrs. Clinton Clad and Mrs. Edward De Winter.

The "Hopefuls," Mrs. Donald Willumson, captain; Mrs. Howard K. Forsberg, Mrs. John Boldemann and Mrs. Loretta La Mont.

Prizes will be awarded to the winners the second week in June.

La Salle High School Holds Banquet

La Salle High School will hold its annual Father and Son Banquet tonight at 6 o'clock.

Highlight of the program will be the main speaker, Rod Dedeaux, well-known baseball coach of the Southern California Trojans.

Athletic director, Duffey Lewis, will present the baseball awards for the 1958 season.

Brother Celestine, school principal, has announced more than 40 fathers and sons from the immediate area will be in attendance.

Hilltoppers Plan May Barbecue

Members of "The Hilltoppers," a couples' club in upper Hastings Ranch, have scheduled an "all-out" barbecue in the Randolph Wilbur home, 1235 Riviera Dr., for their May meeting. Co-hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. Richard Neugebauer.

Mr. and Mrs. Carder Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Bud Marrs, Mr. and Mrs. James Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. George Davis Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Atley Bussey, Mr. and Mrs. Howard Moon and Mr. and Mrs. Warren Clements were recent guests at the "Kowloon" in Hollywood where the owner, George Lim, personally supervised the serving of his famous "Foreign Correspondent's Special."

The evening began with the serving of cocktails and hors d'oeuvres and ended three calorie-filled hours later with creme de menthe frappes.

Robin Hardison Celebrates 12th Birthday

Robin Hardison, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles R. Hardison, 1255 Leonard, celebrated her 12th birthday anniversary at a "Snow Party."

Those young ladies spending the day at Mt. Baldy were Maya Morse, Malinda Hays, Debra Caffee, Ann Harris, Carol Cairncross, Elise Lamar, Patsy Carley, Sue Wynn, Gail Tampico, Karen Amber and Diane Sullivan.

The girls enjoyed winter games and luncheon at the Ice House. Birthday cake and ice cream were served at the Hardison home on their return .

St. Edmund's Plans Boutique April 26

St. Edmund's Episcopal Church, San Marino, which counts among its parishioners a number of Hastings Ranch residents, will hold its annual Spring Boutique from 1 to 7 p.m. Saturday on the church grounds.

The "boutique" combines the tradition of an old-fashioned church bazaar with a French flavor, and will offer accessories, original and carefully fashioned articles for "birthdays, barbecues, brides and babies."

Lyle Perusse Speaks to Las Jardineras

Lyle Perusse, representing the Fine Arts Department of Pasadena Public Library, spoke to members of Las Jardineras on the library's facilities and reviewed books on landscaping and home interiors at the April meeting of the club Tuesday afternoon.

The club met at the home of Mrs. Joseph Steffens, 720 Rim, with Mrs. Kirk Lewis and Mrs. Stanley Mikulka as co-hostesses.

Other events on the Las Jardineras schedule include the regular meeting May 27, spring husband-wife dinner dance June 7 and the annual officers' luncheon June 24.

Phillips Home From Cruise On Banana Boat

Home from a relaxing cruise to Panama are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Phillips, 3865 Canfield.

With 10 other passengers, including a couple from Brentwood with whom they made friends on a cruise last year, the Phillips spent nine days going down and nine nays returning, with six days ashore for sightseeing.

They made the trip on a banana boat, and are sold on this type of voyage. Deck games, good food and sun bathing, plus no telephones to answer, make it a true vacation, say the Phillips, who already are thinking about next spring's cruise to somewhere or other.

LAFF OF THE WEEK

"Oh, Mr. Rigney—I'll bet you say that to all us gorgeous creatures."

Provisionals Welcomed At Meeting

The Junior League of Pasadena Inc. held its 32nd annual meeting last Tuesday at the home of Mrs. Louis Rowan, 1177 Hillside Rd.

Mrs. Harcourt Hervey Jr., outgoing president, called the meeting to order at 9:45 a.m. Mrs. Stuart MacLaren, incoming provisional chairman, introduced the new provisionals to the league.

Those welcomed to membership were Mrs. Thomas Barrow, Mrs. John T. Boyle, Mrs. Ronald Caspers, Mrs. Howard Cunningham, Mrs. Perry Dudley, Mrs. Kern Fielder, Mrs. William R. Hees, Mrs. Preston B. Hotchkins, Mrs. Mervin Johnson and Mrs. James P. Kennedy Ja.

Also, Mrs. Frank L. King Jr., Mrs. William Krueger, Mrs. E. Robert Kursinski, Mrs. Fred P. Lyte, Mrs. Ruel Smitter, Mrs. Walter Stover, Mrs. Richard Thomas, Mrs. Hugh Wilson Jr., Miss Gwendolyn Garland, Miss Marilyn M. Hubbard, Miss Marion Irving, Miss Dorothy McCay, Miss Barbara Pearson and Miss Patricia Sweeney.

Mrs. Hervey presented the annual report, a summary of the league's activities during the past year. Mrs. Waller Taylor II then assumed the office of president and other members of the board of directors, elected at the March meeting, were installed.

Following the meeting, a fashion show with league members modeling contributions to the "Next-to-Nothing Shop" was presented by the ways and means committee.

Luncheon, honoring the new provisionals, completed the day's agenda.

Field PTA Dad's Show Scheduled On June 6-7

Eugene Field "Dad's Show," postponed from last weekend, is now scheduled for June 6 and 7 in the school cafetorium.

David Orswell, chairman of the men's committee, which sponsors the show annually, said the original dates had to be discarded because of illnesses and business trips among the members of the cast.

Women Voters Convention On April 29

Sierra Madre and Hastings Ranch members will attend the annual convention of the League of Women Voters of Pasadena on April 29 at the Women's City Club. All members are automatically delegates and are urged to attend and vote on the league program.

Registration will open at 9:30 and delegates will receive a convention kit, which will include the agenda, proposed budget and reports.

The president, Mrs. William Hines, will open the meeting at which the budget will be presented, officers elected and by-law changes considered.

The luncheon address, given by Dr. Robert E. Jenkins, Pasadena's new school superintendent, will be a discussion of his theories, with particular emphasis on the relationship of government to public education.

During the afternoon session, local study items for the coming year will be considered by the membership.

Reservations should be made by noon of April 28, by calling the league office, SYcamore 2-5298.

Area Council Schedules Fashion Show

A tea and fashion show will be presented by southern area council of Alpha Delta Pi Saturday at 3 p.m. in Bullock's Downtown tea room.

The council represents all alumnae groups of Alpha Delta Pi in Southern California and they are cooperating in this benefit for the San Fernando Valley Regional Center of Crippled Children's Society, Rancho del Valle.

Crippled children's organizations is the national project of the sorority and each section of alumnae groups chooses a local center for its particular interest.

Saturday afternoon, Miss Marilyn Graves, director, will be introduced by Mrs. Donald Stewart and will tell something of the background and program at Rancho del Valle.

Mrs. Harl D. Crockett, president of Pasadena area alumnae, will present door prizes at the tea. Pasadena alumnae hostesses will be Mmes Joe Ebner, Eugene Parker and Thomas Mallory.

Mrs. Philip J. Charley of Glendale-Pasadena alumnae is benefit chairman.

Summer fashions will be shown by Bullocks.

REALTY LOANS

Home Savings and Loan Association has recorded a total of $28,160,255 in realty loans in Los Angeles County for the quarter ended March 31, the highest amount recorded for the period by the 100 largest mortgage lending asscoiations in the county.

Registration for the day is $1 and the luncheon is $2.75.

CALTECH LECTURE

"Geological Time Table" is the title of this week's Friday evening demonstration lecture at the California Institute of Technology. The lecture will be given by Dr. Gerald Wasserburg at 7:30 p.m. in room 201 Bridge Hall of Phyics. The general public is invited.

Building of Victory Park High Delayed One Year

Pasadena's new high school being erected at Victory Park will not open in September 1959 as was first estimated, but will be delayed perhaps until September 1960.

A. C. Zimmerman, architect for the school, told the School Board that building plans would be ready the middle of June, and that the board could plan to open bids July 15, after contractors had a month to figure their bids.

He said that with an experienced contractor the job might be completed in 16 months, making the opening come in January 1960, but that any delay along the way could put off the opening day until September.

Originally, plans were to have been ready for bid by the middle of April, but the architect said approval by the state fire marshall and division of architecture took longer than was expected.

When the new school opens it will be a basic plant, without gyms, cafeteria or auditorium and almost without physical education facilities.

Voters will decide June 3 whether to vote an $8,000,000 bond issue for the High School district, which will include plans to complete the new school facilities, and $5,000,000 bond issue for the Junior College district.

SUMATRA SEETHES . . . Indonesian federal troops drove rebels from Pakning, where American-owned Caltex Oil Co. has tanks and pipe lines at mouth of Siak River.

. . . Fire Flames . . .

By Chief James Heasley

A recent tour of a crew of firemen, included some of the officers, found neatness and well kept ground at the rear of the stores along W. Sierra Madre Blvd. This is a noticeable change within the last few months and the storekeepers are to be congratulated.

The men of the Fire Department realize the danger of ill kept grounds about the business area.

THERE IS much concern about re-opening the former theater building for use as a movie house. Unless there is much better management than has been practiced in the past, the Fire Department men are not ready to recommend an early opening.

In the first place the building is poorly constructed for the assembly of large crowds particularly gathering of small children. Exit doors are located so that a rushing, only escape to a narrow pass along high cement walls, where former managers permitted ladders, bicycles and other obstructions (to be fallen over.) Not that they were not reminded of the danger of such tactics, and the articles removed (time after time) but because we do not have a regular fire inspector on duty at all times, the obstructions would at some time or other appear. The building and its surroundings would not be a good place to be, in case of fire or panic.

* * *

THE EASTER EGG hunt was a great success and Charlie Brown had plenty of help from other firemen. It is hoped that none of the small children were disappointed. There were plenty of eggs.

* * *

A GROUP of our comedians are planning on preparing the Fire Department float for the coming Monrovia Day parade. The plans are that the Thespians represent "Westward Ho" firemen going west to fight fires to collect a little gold.

No one knows for sure just what that means, but we can be assured that some of the plotters will come up with sumpin'.

* * *

AND NOW since the weeds have reached the height limit, those who have had them as visitors during the growing season should be thinking about how they are to be eliminated. Remember, dry weeds are a menace to the community. The warning signs have been placed about the city and even though their wasn't one stuck in your back yard, you are supposed to know that weeds must be removed.

Tenderfoot Scouts Plan Canyon Outing Saturday

Troop 8 Tenderfoot scouts will complete another requirement toward their second class rank this Saturday morning, April 26, when they take a hike-lunch outing to the waterfall in Monrovia canyon.

The members of the troop have made all the plans and will provide the liquid refreshments to accompany the nosebag lunches, make a troop first-aid kit, conduct a songs and games program, and make their own safety rules.

In preparation for the hike, Bill Wark of the Sierra Madre Search and Rescue Squad has instructed them in behavior, and Mrs. Hortense Wells, Sierra Madre school nurse, has helped them learn simple first aid.

Adults accompanying the troop will be Mrs. Claude Brown, leader; Mrs. Theodore Broomfield, Mrs. Leroy Quackenboss, Mrs. Dal Ames, and Mrs. Philip Mitchell, assistant leaders; and Mrs. C. C. Ward, Jr., and Leo Horswell and Claude Brown, parents.

* * *

TROOP 22 Intermediate Scouts completed the last of their pioneer camping requirements for Curved Bar Rank last weekend with a two-night campout at Sierra Madre Villa Park.

Taking part were Marian Black, Kathy Brown, Georgia Eastwood, Mary Martha Brenner, Mary Jane Nowa, Pam Valois, Barbara Winslow, Sylvia Hays, Gloria Woodward, and Carolyn Kirk of Sierra Madre, and Karen Bettenger, Marylee Sanford and Judy Barnes, of San Gabriel, who also had to complete the requirements.

Adult supervisors were Mrs. Samuel Kirk and Mrs. James Winslow, leaders; Mrs. Milton Valois, who is helping with the senior scouting program; William Stevenson, Emmett Black and Mrs. G. Gordon Sanford, parents; and program aides (who are senior scouts) Karen Sloan and Pam Grotenhite.

SHIP NO. 3 Mariner Scouts raised $168.00 from their three-day rummage sale last weekend. All the members of this ship worked on the sale to help earn money for a summer cruise and a projected trip down the Colorado River.

CUB PACK 371 will meet in Pritchard Hall of the Congregational Church on Friday, April 25 at 7:30 p.m. for their monthly pack meeting. The boys with the help of their den mothers have planned a program centered around this month's theme, "Keep America Beautiful."

Bill Barnes, present cubmaster, will turn leader responsibilities over to Mark Schaefer, new cubmaster for the pack. Assistant cubmaster will be Bill Howard.

Pack 371 committee responsibilities have been newly assigned for the coming year: chairman, Bev Morant, 61 W. Bonita; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Halferty, 550 W. Highland, and publicity, Mrs. Edward Verreaux.

Awards as follows will be distributed to Mike Waite, bear badge, one gold and five silver arrows; Scott Verreaux, bear badge; David Clark, wolf badge; Robert Ingram, wolf badge; Danny James, wolf badge and one gold arrow; Mike Howard, wolf badge, one gold arrow and two silver arrows; Robert Sheridan, wolf badge; Claud Rhodus, wolf badge; Mark Rhodus, wolf badge; and Jimmy Howard, one gold arrow and two silver arrows.

Faith Lutheran Plans Second Information Night

The second session of the weekly church information night will be conducted by Rev. Armin Hesse at 8 o'clock on Wednesday evening in the adult meeting room of Faith Lutheran Church, 835 Hastings Ranch Dr.

These Wednesday evening meetings from 8 to 9:15 feature a presentation and discussion of the main teachings of the Christian faith and the policies of the Lutheran Church. They aim to prepare non-church members for intelligent membership in the church and to renew and strengthen the faith of those who are members.

"Attendance imposes no obligations," the local pastor said.

* * *

ON TUESDAY and Wednesday of next week, a number of ladies from the Ladies Mission Aid of Faith Lutheran Church plan to attend the sessions of the Lutheran Women's Missionary League Growth Institute, to be conducted from 9:30 to 5:30 daily at Mt. Olive Lutheran Church, 1118 N. Allen, in Pasadena. The delegation will be led by Mrs. Arthur B. Curry of Monrovia, president of Faith Church's ladies organization.

* * *

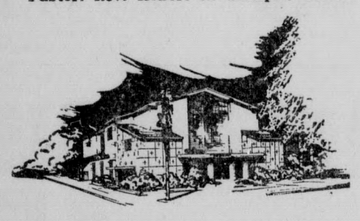

ON TUESDAY evening, the Voting Assembly of Faith Lutheran will meet at 8 o'clock in the chapel to hear first-quarter reports and to transact the business of the parish.

Ed. Plischke of Sierra Madre, president of the congregation, will conduct the meeting. One of the items of interest will be a report on the district convention of The Lutheran Church — Missouri Synod, held last week in Santa Barbara and attended by Walter Euken and the pastor.

'Real Cool,' That's New Church Here

A circulating, silent fan system of air conditioning will keep Shepherd of the Hills Lutheran Church the "coolest" congregation in the coming summer months, announces the Rev. Ray E. Hansen, pastor.

"We believe in worshiping in comfort," he added. "We encourage all who come to the Upper Room to dress for the weather, and are making special efforts to keep them cool."

The pastor explained that the 10 a.m. worship hour enables the congregation to leave the church by 11 a.m. before the heat of the day warms the Upper Room.

"Fortunately our place of worship is on the north side of the Woman's Clubhouse and remains at least 20 degrees cooler in summer than the outdoor temperature."

Next Sunday the sermon at 10 a.m. will be "Joy Comes at Dawn" based on the scripture reading John 16:16-23, in which Christ tells His disciples of a coming separation but gives them the promise of a joyous reunion.

Sunday School for all ages is at 9 a.m., when Pastor Hansen also leads a Bible study for adults. A nursery is provided at both services. The congregation meets at the Woman's Clubhouse at 270 W. Sierra Madre Blvd.

Rites to Observe Israel's Tenth Anniversary Set

Rabbi Charles W. Steckel will speak on "Israel's Independence Day" in commemoration of the Jewish state's 10th anniversary, Friday evening at 8:30 in the Foothill Jewish Community Center of Temple Beth Israel, 212 N. Lima St.

Cantor Salo Blumenthal will assist.

Hosts for the Oneg Shabbath following the service will be Mr. and Mrs. Manny Maler of Duarte.

Rabbi Steckel will conduct Sabbath morning services at 9 o'clock.

Shepherd of the Hills
UNITED . . . EVANGELICAL . . . LUTHERAN
Upper Room 270 W. Sierra Madre Bl. ELgin 5-3701

LUTHERANS are happy Christians! We know we are saved by the sacrifice of Christ on the Cross, who died once and for all the sins of all men for all time. We believe we are saved by the merit of Christ, not by anything we have done or can do.

BUT WE KNOW we are saved to serve. As Martin Luther says, "in order that I might be His, live under Him in His Kingdom and serve Him in everlasting righteousness, innocence and blessedness, even as He is risen from the dead, and lives and reigns to all eternity."

FREED FROM SIN and purified by the blood of Christ, the Christian soldier faces the battle of life with a burning desire to do his best. We Lutherans assert we are saved by faith in Christ—that must come first!—but when we have this faith, and see what the love of God does for us, we want to tell others—and from our faith flows good works. We do not try to do good because it is the law of the land, custom of our community or because of social controls. We try to do good because we desire to do so! It is free expression and outgrowth of our faith!

FAITH without good works is dead. Faith can become weak and zeal can lapse into indifference. We can keep both alive by prayer, hearing God's Word, worshiping our Lord, singing hymns, and exercising our faith by actually doing good works with Christ's help!

TODAY'S THOUGHT—Keep your faith growing by strengthening your soul in the Lord's House.

—The Rev. Ray E. Hansen.

Rev. Kimball To Address Pilgrim Club

Rev. Stewart Kimball, assistant minister of Christian Education for the Southern California Congregational Conference, will be the speaker at the Congregational Church this Sunday at 7 p.m.

He will address the Pilgrim Fellowship, high school organization at the church, on "Taking Your Pilgrim Fellowship Pulse."

The Fellowship Commission, for which Linda Black is chairman, is in charge of the meeting.

On Sunday, the adult choir, under the direction of Stewart Matter, will sing at the 9:30 service, while the youth choir, which is directed by Cathy Franco, will sing at the 11 o'clock service.

Rev George Lindsay will preach on "A Christ for Crisis" at both services.

'Escape to Reality' Is Sermon Topic

"The Escape to Reality" will be the subject of the Sunday morning worship services, April 27 at 9:15 and 11 o'clock, by Dr. Ethel Barnhart, at the Santa Anita Church of Religious Science, 778 S. Rosemead Blvd., Pasadena.

Thursday evening, April 24, Dr. Craig Carter, minister of the Santa Ana Church of Religious Science will be guest speaker. His subject is "The Unbroken Consciousness of The Presence."

LESSON-SERMON

The subject of "Probation after Death," to be heard as the lesson-sermon in the Christian Science churches on Sunday, challenges the heaviness and confusion attending the experience of death by a strong quotation from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, "Not death, but the understanding of life, makes man immortal" (p. 85).

Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance Clifford Bishop

June Elizabeth Podliska Weds Dorrance Clifford Bishop

June Elizabeth Podliska, daughter of Mrs. Ervin John Podliska, Sr., and the late Mr. Podliska, exchanged nuptial vows with Dorrance Clifford Bishop, son of Mrs. James Thomas Bishop, of Pasadena, and the late Mr. Bishop in St. Rita's Catholic Church April 12.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Ervin J. Podliska, Jr., of Covina, chose a white nylon lace and accordian pleated tulle, over ice blue satin, gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and cathedral train embroidered with irridescent sequins and pearls. Her ice blue finger-tip illusion veil tulled leaves edged in pearls.

She carried a large cascade bouquet of orchids, gardenias and stephanotis with ice blue and white satin ribbons edged with seed pearls.

The maid-of-honor, Joann Podliska, sister of the bride, wore a powder blue nylon lace over taffeta frock. The bridesmaids, Mrs. Joann Ruiz, school friend of the bride, wore a romance blue dress and Miss Joan Noble, a member of California Tip Topper, an organiaztion which the bride recently resigned the office of social chairman, was attired in cottillion blue.

All of the attendants carried bouquets of three lilac colored orchids surrounded by carnations and delicately accented with baby ivy.

Gerry Hybskmann served his long-time friend as best man and the guests were seated by Lad Podliska, brother of the bride, and Le Roy Grobe, a friend of the groom from his army days.

The mother of the bride wore a powder blue embroidered silk sheath dress accented by white accessories. Her corsage was an arrangement of three pale pink cymbidiums and silver ribbon.

The mother of the groom was attired in a Dior blue lace sheath dress with navy blue accessorie and wore a similar cymbidium corsage. She was accompanied to the wedding by her brother, C. Fenton Clifford.

The bride was born in Chicago, Ill., and came to Sierra Madre in 1945. She graduated from St. Rita's School, attended St. Andrew's High School and graduated from Pasadena City College. She is presently employed at a Pasadena bank.

The groom is a native of Pasadena and a graduate of Elliot Junior High School and Pasadena City College. He served two years with the US Army in Korea.

A reception for more than 300 guests was held immeriately following the double ring ceremony in the church social hall.

A buffet dinner was held in the home of the bride's mother with members of the wedding party and relatives in attendance. The occasion also marked the fifth wedding anniversary of the Ervin J. Podliska, Jrs.

Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Edward Kral of Prescott, Ariz., aunt and uncle of the bride.

City of Hope Carnival Next Saturday

A carnival is being planned by the Volunteers of the City of Hope on Saturday, from 12 noon to 10 p.m., at San Gabriel Mission, 537 W. Mission Drive. All proceeds will be turned over to the Children's Leukemia Wing of the City of Hope in Duarte.

Children will reign supreme that day with kiddy rides, clowns, balloons, Larry Nelson's puppet and magic show, the "Lady With a Thousand Pockets and a Prize in Every Pocket," movies, and games of skill.

There will be plenty of food so come for supper and have spaghetti, chili beans, hot dogs, home-made pies and cakes. For the children, there will be cotton candy, snocones, pop corn, soft drings and ice cream.

There will be a white elephant booth, ceramic booth, needlework and handicraft booth and food booths.

Sandy Custer Marks Birthday

Sandy Custer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Custer, 265 Ramona, celebrated her 11th birthday anniversary last Sunday at an afternoon party.

In attendance were Laureen Dawson, Mary Belle Lamers, Martha Cason, Penny Ward, Kristan Brown, Betty Diaz, Sally Smith, Isabelle Steele, Jean Cohn, Amy Uyematsu, Mellissa Birch, Vici Patosa and Jan Conzelman.

C. R. Stowells Entertain A. C. Wards

Mr. and Mrs. Clifford R. Stowell Jr., 300 Mountain Trail, and their children, Jessica Lynn and David, are entertaining Mrs. Stowell's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Ward of Norfolk, Neb., during their month's visit in Southern California.

Mr. Stowell's hobby is gun collecting. The Wards stayed with their grandchildren while the Stowells attended a gun show in Dallas, Tex.

Storkland

Mr. and Mrs. John P. Atkinson, 205 S. Mountain Trail, are the parents of a son, Rock La Rue, born April 8 at Huntington Memorial Hospital weighing 8 pounds 12 ounces. The paternal grandmother is Mrs. Fern A. Dilson of Indianapolis, Ind. The maternal grandmother is Winifred Walden, also of Indianapolis. The other Atkinson children are Victoria Jeanne, 12; John Prentice, 8, and Patricia Elaine, 6.

Bill Corneth At Ford Ord

Bill Corneth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thurman Corneth, former Sierra Madreans now making their home in Downey, Calif., recently enlisted in the U.S. Army.

Bill attended Sierra Madre Elementary School and was a graduate of Wilson Junior High School and Downey High School. He also attended Long Beach City College for one year.

He is now stationed at Fort Ord but will be sent to Massachusetts for additional training as an Army Security Agent.

Anoakia Tennis Team At Ojai

Anoakia School for Girls gave a send-off to the participants of the Annual Open Tennis Tournament at Ojai between all public and private schools of California.

Doris Hoeneman, head of tennis, led the group of girls leaving yesterday, with matches to be played today, Friday and Saturday. All participants are invited to a dance Friday night.

Anoakia players will be Sydney Lammers and Doris Hoeneman, singles; Candy McCaslin, singles for 15 and under; Sheila Roberts and Carol Schiebel, doubles for 18 and under; Mary McCaslin and Anne Moore, doubles for 15 and under.

Chaperones accompanying the girls are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hoeneman, Mrs. Harry Roberts, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Boder and Mrs. Marjory Winfield, head-mistress.

The Father's Club of Anoakia sponsors this event each year.

Nina Shearer At Open House

When the nursing department of Pasadena City College holds its first open house tomorrow, Sierra Madre co-ed Nina Shearer will be one of the students assisting as demonstrators and hostesses.

PCC offers training toward a registered nursing degree and toward vocational nursing. Class activities will be shown and explained during the open house.

The physical science, life science, and engineering and technology departments of the college will also be open to the public that same evening.

DELIVERS PETITION

An armored truck was used yesterday to deliver the initial Los Angeles County signed Employer-Employe Relations initiative petitions—the so-called right-to-work measure — to Registrar of Voters Benjamin S. Hite's office in a preliminary step to place the issue on the ballot next November. Sponsors of the measure said the unusual security precautions were being taken because their headquarters have been burglarized, petitions stolen and petition circulators threatened in many parts of the state.

Dr. Schreiner Presents Final Concert

Dr. Alexander Schreiner, organist, Mormon Tabernacle, Salt Lake City, will present the final concert of the current season of the Master Organ Series, in Thorne Hall, Occidental College, April 28, at 8:15 p.m.

The Master Organ Series is sponsored jointly by the Pasadena and Valley Districts and the Los Angeles Chapters of the American Guild of Organists and Occidental College, and is open to the public.

'Of Sheep and Men' Tests Versatility of Author

By Don Pope

OF SHEEP AND MEN, by R. B. Robertson. It is a little startling, at first thought, to find the gusty Boswell of the Antartic whaling fleet turning from the largest living mammal and the farthest reaches of the world, to the mammal who is a byword for the prosaic and to the tame hills of border Scotland.

It was only with a hoping-against-hope that the author of OF WHALES AND MEN could make something brisk out of almost any material that led this reader, at least, to check out the sheep piece.

Now, having read OF SHEEP AND MEN aloud in family (a severe test), it is our family's opinion:

That Dr. Robertson can indeed make something brisk out of almost any material; that (as we should have remembered) it was the men, not the whales, that made the first book memorable; that Scots herds are as salty cross-grained individuals as Norwegian harpooners; that it is great fun to wander a strange pasture anywhere in the world when your companion is a man of wit, understanding, and glib tongue.

IT WAS Mrs. Robertson who started it. In New England. "I would like to photograph your country," she said, as casually as though she were proposing an afternoon's outing with the Camera Club.

"It's time somebody who can see through a lens went to Scotland and produced something better than the colored corn we get on our advertising pages. I want to make a proper record of the Scots people and the way they really live when they're not dressed up in fancy dress playing the bagpipes for the amusement of the tourists. Where do we start?"

They started in the pub (known locally as "The House of Sin") in a village with an unpronounceable name on the River Tweed in a neighborhood into which the Roman Ninth Legion had once ventured with unfriendly intentions and vanished (so says the boastful south-of-Scotland author) from history unto the last button.

Something not dissimilar happened to the Robertsons. A year later, they were honored habituees of the same pub, residents of "a shepherd's two-roomed cottage at the top of a Border glen. The road up to the cottage led nowhere else, if only for the reason that there was no road up to the cottage. There was running water, a fire, and plumbing that seemed to work. But around there was nothing but rolling grassy hills and . . . sheep!"

IN THE YEAR, which is the span of the book, the Robertsons learn to herd, dip, pursue, breed, give-birth-to, shear, purchase, and appreciate, sheep. They also learn how to poach salmon, listen to Billy Graham bringing coals to Newcastle, to puncture the myth that all rustics rise at dawn, and much else not taught in Calvinist Sunday Schools but full of the life juice.

Their constant companions and (as heretofore indicated) the real gist of the book, are Barry Craven, the tramp with the clean shirt; Tam, the chief herd, perpetually resting at the right of the fireplace from reputed but unobserved labors; Mrs. Tam, a mighty laborer capable of ruling continents; Hamish Dundas, rigid elder of the Presbyterian Kirk, who limped past the game warden with a 12-pound salmon down his pants leg; the Wall Street lawyer who came for two days to find out why tweed has lost its smell and shared the fate of the Ninth Legion; and many more the reader will be grateful to have known.

Mrs. Robertson's photographs are good, too.

Student Art Show Reveals Lack of Experience

By Frode Dann

Friends of the Sierra Madre Library presented an exhibition of paintings and drawings by advanced students from seven Southland Colleges and Art Schools during April.

The influences in the work of these new, young artists point up o significant fact:

It takes less time nowadays for students to become aware of trends and major art events than it did even just a few years ago. More than half of the paintings in this show have been inspired by the so called "German Expressionist Movement."

ONLY A few months ago this "school" of painting was brought to the attention of the American public through major exhibits, both in the east and the west (Pomona College). New books on the subject have just come off the press and national art magazines have publicized the events.

It is considerably healthier to find influences of "movements" than of individual teachers. There was a time when art students invariably emerged from their courses as small replicas of their masters. Only the strong minded ones succeeded in subsequently wearing off the stamp. Teachers of today are much more aware of the importance of individuality and try to encourage it—not to suppress it.

In this new exhibition there is much evidence of talent and individuality. The paintings reveal spiritual freedom and fearless search. But, as an over-all evaluation, one would be justified in expressing the opinion that a lot of experience is still to be required of the exhibitors before any definite prognostication about individual, artistic significance could be made. However, there seem to be many fine promises.

A SUBSTANTIAL number of drawings and prints round out the show. Here, for some reason or other, we find much more maturity. It is rewarding to scrutinize this department.

The exhibitors are Fibel A. Daniels and Edie Ellif from Pasadena City College, Robert Prichard, U.S.C., Allan D. Goldstein and Wilber Haynie, Los Angeles County Art Institute; Jack A. Hopkins and Dianne Divelbess, Scripp's College; Baden Mowry and Michael Spafford, Pomona College; Llyn Fulkes and Bernett Maisch; Chouinard Art Institute, Janet Conn and Allan Hubbard; Pasadena School of Fine Arts.

GREATEST ADVANCE IN COOKING!

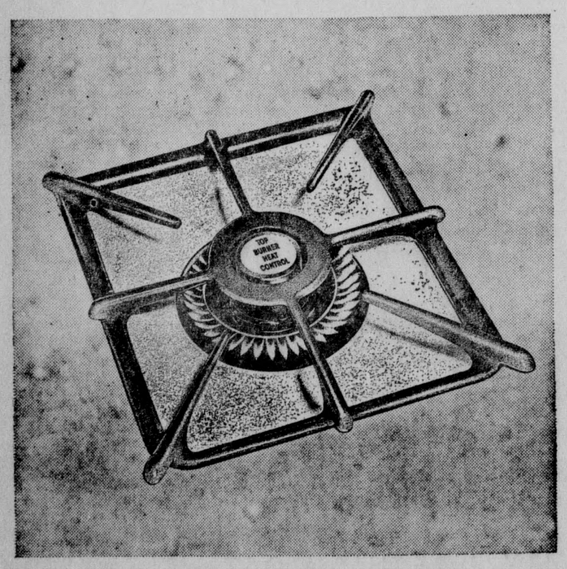

LOOK FOR THE GREEN DOT when you visit your dealer —it's your buying guide to a truly modern Gas range!

Makes every pan automatic! With Top Burner Heat Control, all you do is dial the desired cooking temperature. The sensing element in the center of the burner takes over. It touches the pan, takes its temperature, then raises or lowers flame to maintain pre-set cooking temperature. Potwatching is ended—forever! No wonder folks call this feature the "Burner with a Brain!"

TOP BURNER HEAT CONTROL ON 1958 GAS RANGES

The 1958 Gas range illustrated is the GAFFERS & SATTLER. Other makes equipped with top burner heat control can be identified by the Green Dot. See the new Gas ranges that are automatic all the way—at your dealer or Gas Company

Look what these features do for you! They're simply wonderful!

AUTOMATIC ROASTING THERMOMETER lets you cook meat to order—well-done, medium or rare. All you do is set the thermometer, insert it into roast. Oven shuts off automatically when meat is done.

ROTARY BARBECUE brings the flavor of outdoor cooking indoors—without the muss and fuss. Smoke, spatter vanish in Gas flame. As with Gas broiling, you barbecue with broiler door closed.

'Teahouse,' Always Witty, Is What You Make It

By Edward Voorhees

"The Teahouse of the August Moon," the Pulitzer Prize comedy now at the Pasadena Playhouse, is a gem of purest ray serene that sparkles from whatever angle it is viewed—as comedy, philosophy, beauty, fantasy, humor, amusing craftiness, imagination, tolerance, witty lines.

Vern Sneider, the American in Okinawa who wrote the novel from which John Padrick made the play, writes:

"'The Teahouse' was meant to make you think if you wish to think, or to make you forget if you wish to forget. It is meant to be whatever you wish to make it." So mote it be.

IT IS a fanciful and hilarious tale, not unknown to oriental history, of the cultural conquest of the conquerors by the conquered.

The good-natured Okinawans, having previously undergone "improvement treatment" by Chinese and Japanese conquerors, successively, next find themselves under a "rehabilitation program" by the American army of occupation.

Lectures on democracy, the building of a new schoolhouse, and all sorts of special productive projects a la American have been planned by "Washington" (D.C.), to regiment the natives of the little village of Tobiki toward "happiness and prosperity." This is to be directed locally by American Captain Fisby, under telephone command of Col. Wainwright Purdy III at Okinawa headquarters, who has promised his wife he will return home a General.

But language difficulties make necessary the constant services of Sakini, an interpreter who is also a philosophical humorist, with wily tact, charm and common sense, who little by little, with the inspiring presence of the exquisite Lotus Blossom, finally achieves—though not without jolts and setbacks—and by means risky to summarize, results which are pleasant to all concerned. The schoolhouse dream becomes a teahouse reality!

JERRY ODDO, as Sakini the interpreter, gives to the part a joyousness and finesse of craftiness that motivates and colors the whole play. Clark Howat, as the much involved Captain Fisby; Lisa Lu as the lovely and spellbinding Lotus Blosom; Paul Maxey as the testy and harassed Colonel Purdy, and Michael Fox as Captain McLean, the psychologist, all give distinguished performances, for which lack of required space unfortunately prevents fullness of deserved recognition. Vivid settings by Marvyn Harbert and fine direction by Pat Miller ably augment the dramatic possibilities of the very large cast.

Okinawa resident engineer, William E. Jenkins of Sierra Madre, in his fascinating book, "Okinawa—Isle of Smiles" (1951), writes of the native young people of Okinawa employed by the American occupation forces: ". . . there is always the undercurrent of mirth among them. It's infectious, and the worst office grouch finally ends up wearing a smile with them." No truer comment could be made on the delightful play at the Playhouse.

Moiseyev Dancers At Shrine

Hollywood Bowl Association announced through its president, Z. Wayne Griffin, a broadening in its presentation activities. The Bowl as an amphitheater has had to confine its operation to summer months. Throughout the years, attractions of related cultural and civic interest which would have been available only during the winter period, have had to be by-passed.

The first step in this new expansion move is the announcement by Mr. Griffin that the Hollywood Bowl Association will present the Moiseyev Dance Company from Moscow at the Shrine Auditorium for seven performances commencing May 24.

"Bringing the Moiseyev Dance Company to Los Angeles," said Mr. Griffin, "is Southern California's first experience with the recently signed cultural exchange program between the Government of the United States and the Soviet Union. Our State Department is hopeful that this cultural exchange program will bring about a better understanding between us and the peoples of the Soviet Union. The Hollywood Bowl Association in taking an active part in this exchange feels that this may well be one of the steps in the direction of world peace."

"In addition to the arrangement of bringing the Moiseyev Dance Company to Los Angeles," Mr. Griffin added, "we are presently negotiating to bring the famous Old Vic Company from London to Los Angeles in the early Fall. The Old Vic Repertory Company has never appeared in the United States outside of New York, and we will be fortunate indeed if we are able to conclude our negotiations."

Fainting Is Often Result Of an Emotional Shock

(Presented as a public service by the Foothill District of the Los Angeles County Medical Association)

Have you ever fainted?

Here's why:

Fainting — sudden unconsciousness caused when the blood supply to the brain is temporarily reduced—is usually not considered serious. After a shock, blood rushes from the brain causing a lack of oxygen which leads to loss of consciousness.

Fainting may be the result of injury or emotional shock. Fear, hunger, fatigue, the sight of blood, confinement in close quarters, or unpleasant association can lead to fainting. The sight of a hypodermic needle has caused many combat-tested soldiers to keel over.

CONSCIOUSNESS usually returns quickly after a person faints. He should not try to get up, nor should an attempt be made to get him to sit or stand for 10 minues or more or he may faint again. Smelling salts or a dash of cold water may have a stimulating effect and may be used unless there is bleeding. Liquids should not be given to an unconscious person, as he may choke.

If a person fails to recover consciousness after a few minutes, there is reason to suspect something more serious, and a doctor should be summoned immediately.

Since simple fainting cannot occur when a person is prone, the best thing to do for someone who feels faint is to suggest he lie down before he falls and injures himself. Or have him sit and put his head between his knees, and looosen any tight clothing.

IN CASE a person faints, try to remember these four simple steps:

1. Place the person on his back and elevate his feet so the blood returns to the head.
2. Use smelling salts or other ammonia inhalants if there is no bleeding—or a dash of sold water.
3. Keep the patient on his back for at least 10 minutes.
4. Call a doctor if the patient does not regain consciousness quickly.

SEA ARENA

A huge, outdoor aquatic amphitheater, which will more than double the present crowd capacity of Marineland of the Pacific at Palos Verdes, will be completed and opened by July 1, according to William F. Monahan, vice president and general manager of the world's largest oceanerium. The new addition, to be known as a Sea Arena, is being built at a cost of $500,000. It has been under construction since Nov. 25, 1957.

Garden Notes . . .

Lawns Need Special Care For Hot Summer Months

Now is the time to give lawns the special care necessary to help them thrive during the dry summer months. The California Asociation of Nurserymen recommends a mulch of commercial steer manure and an application of dieldrin or chlordane to combat insect pests.

Steer manure, one of the commonest organic fertilizers, is generally applied at the rate of two cubic feet to 150 square feet of lawn surface. This heavy application is needed only twice during the year, however, now and again in late fall. During the summer months light applications of chemical, rather than organic, fertilizers are recommended to nourish the lawn.

IT IS EXTREMELY important to use a commercial steer manure rather than some manure which may be handy. The commercial preparations have been treated to remove weed seeds, whereas natural manure is sure to contain trouble for the gardener in the millions of tiny weed spores.

Steer manure should be applied to a dry lawn and then watered in, allowing the nutrients to reach the whole root area. The reason for applying fertilizer to a dry lawn is that burning may occur if this rule is not observed.

Dieldrin is a poison especially adapted to ridding lawns of one of their worst pests: lawn moths. Spring is the best time to attack these pests. Now they are still in worm form; the moths begin to fly as early as May. Since chlordane, the favorite for killing ants, also controls lawn moths, the home gardener should ask local nurserymen which they have found to be most effective and economical.

THERE ARE several important rules to be followed in handling dieldrin, chlordane and other insecticides.

The home gardener should have special measure equipment just for insecticides and he should always clean his spraying and measuring equipment thoroughly after each use. He must spray thoroughly, preferably after a rain rather than when rain is threatening.

The home gardener should never spray in the heat of the day or on windy days.

Homebuilders Meet Tonight

The Homemakers Club of Bethany Church will meet at 7:45 p.m. today at the home of Anna Marie Browning, 3665 Shadow Grove, Pasadena. Mrs. O. R. Lowry will speak on family worship.

Holy Name Union Plans Convention In L.A. April 27

Catholic men representing nearly 300 parishes from Santa—Maria to San Clemente will take part in the 37th annual convention of the Archdiocesan Holy Name Union, Sunday, April 27, at 2 p.m. in Immaculate Conception Parish auditorium, 1433 W. Ninth St., Los Angeles.

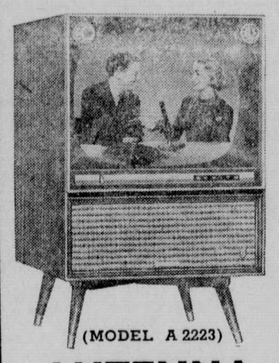

His Eminence James Francis Cardinal McIntyre, archbishop of Los Angeles, will address the meeting.

Delegate will represent more than 100,000 Holy Name men in Los Angeles, Orange, Ventura, and Santa Barbara counties. The Holy Name society, devoted to promoting reverence for the Holy Name of Jesus, is the principal Catholic men's organization in the archdiocese.

COUSINS TALK

The Extended Day Council of Los Angeles State College will present Norman Cousins, editor of The Saturday Review, in a lecture titled "The Coming Showdown" at the San Gabriel Civic Auditorium, Friday evening, April 25, at 8 p.m.
